CASTELLÓN

Mediterranean Flavour

Located to the north of the Valencia Region, Castellón is one of the parts of Spain that has best preserved its Mediterranean flavour - as exemplified by the quality of its beaches, its cuisine, culture and lifestyle.

For this reason, Castellón continues to be one of the favourite holiday destinations for Spanish people, who are attracted to the peace and tranquillity of its tourist destinations as well as the easy transport links provided by both the A7 motorway and the extensive rail network, which connects the province.

Vinarós, Peñiscola, Alcalá-Alcossebre, Oropesa del Mar, Benicasim and Castellón de la Plana are all well-known destinations, very popular with visitors thanks to their excellent beaches combined with the authentic Mediterranean cuisine. This includes dishes such as the classic paella and a wide range of regional products, with highlights such as the langoustines from Vinaròs, artichokes from Benicarló, fresh sole from Peñíscola, and Alcalá tomatoes.

In addition, if you travel inland – less than an hours' drive – you can discover picturesque rural areas such as Morella, Sant Mateu, Segorbe, Montanejos and learn about the centuries-old crafts of olive oil production, traditional sweets and nougat, almond cultivation and enjoy the hearty stews and meats typical of local cooking. The latter still complement the classic Mediterranean cuisine, making use of the excellent and varied local produce available from the farms, orchards and fishing ports throughout the region.

Castellón is the second most mountainous province in Spain, with a wealth of natural parks, rivers and sites for enjoying leisure and sports activities. The landscape makes it especially popular for cycling - both road and mountain bikes.

Added to all this, the region has a rich cultural heritage, the result of the numerous settlements and civilizations that have populated the land over the centuries, with relics from the Moorish, Jewish and Templar societies still clearly visible in its castles and the streets of its historic old town centres.

Because of all this, we can proudly say - without fear of bias - that Castellón is one of the great destinations on the Spanish Mediterranean that we should all experience.

WHY INTRODUCING CASTELLÓN?

The Introducing Castellón Product Club The Product Club Introducing Castellón is a non-profit organization established by the leading hotel companies in the province of Castellón with the aim of supporting the creation and promotion of the province's tourism offerings, strengthening its position in the national and, above all, international markets.

To achieve this, it collaborates with the Generalitat Valenciana, Castellón Airport, the main tourist municipalities of the province, and complementary tourism businesses—including cultural and sports activities, restaurants, guides, and transfers. This collaboration enables the club to offer companies, travel agencies, and individuals a 100% specialized range of services focused on Castellón.

The Introducing Castellón Product Club is the only operator exclusively specializing in the province of Castellón, which is also 100% owned by the hotels themselves.

Making it the best way to connect with Castellón for all your needs!

THE ONLY ENTITY ESPECIALLY DEVOTED TO THE PROVINCE OF CASTELLÓN

The authentic mediterranean lifestyle

Located in the northern part of the Valencia Region, the province of Castellón is one of Spain's areas that has best preserved its Mediterranean essence. This is reflected in the abundance and quality of its beaches, its natural and cultural heritage, its exquisite cuisine, and, of course, its lifestyle–all embraced by the gentle Mediterranean climate.

Castellón offers the perfect balance between tradition and modernity, with picturesque towns like Peñíscola and Morella that blend history and charm, as well as vibrant cities known for their cultural offerings. Its natural parks, such as the Desert de les Palmes and the Sierra de Espadán Natural Park, invite nature enthusiasts to explore their beauty. For all these reasons, we can proudly say–without fear of partiality–that Castellón is one of the great destinations of the Spanish Mediterranean that everyone should experience.

Facilities

The Valencia International Airport is located to the west of the city of Valencia (València in Valencian), just 8 kilometers away, between the municipalities of Manises and Quart de Poblet. For this reason, it is also popularly known as Valencia-Manises Airport or simply Manises Airport.

The airport's main carriers are Air Nostrum (an Iberia Regional franchise), Vueling, and Ryanair, all of which have bases there. Additionally, the airport stands out for the number of private and charter flights in General Aviation, as well as aerial work related to agriculture.

Its primary domestic destinations include Madrid-Barajas, Palma de Mallorca, Barcelona-El Prat, and Seville. Internationally, it boasts connections to over 100 destinations in 28 countries, including France (Paris), England (London), Italy (Rome and Milan), Germany (Munich and Berlin), and the Netherlands (Amsterdam). In 2024, new routes were added to cities such as Copenhagen, Reykjavik, and Vilnius, further cementing its role as a key European airport.

The airport features a single runway with a 12/30 orientation and two passenger terminals: the Main Terminal, comprising T1 and T2, which handle domestic and international flights, and the Regional Aviation Terminal, dedicated exclusively to regional flights. It also includes a General Aviation terminal and a cargo terminal.

Runway

The airport has one runway 69 feet above sea level: Runway with 12/30 orientation, 3,215 x 45 metres long (8,858 x 148 feet) at an elevation of 16 metres.

Terminals

The airport houses two passenger terminals: the Main Terminal building, divided into T1 and T2, where national and international flights operate; and the Regional Aviation Terminal, exclusively for local flights. There is also a General Aviation Terminal and a cargo terminal.

In 2024, the airport set a historic passenger traffic record, handling over 1.1 million passengers in August alone and reaching nearly 7.3 million passengers by the end of the year.

PEÑÍSCOLA

A land of contrasts

The city of Peñíscola, to the north of the Valencia Region, is situated in a privileged spot on the Spanish Mediterranean. Its rich variety of natural resources and benign climate encouraged human settlements going back to the mists of time. Over the course of History, it has played its part in major events, such the Papal Schism, when it was the residence of Benedict XIII, Pope Luna. The medieval walls were reinforced in the reign of Felipe II and are a fine example of Renaissance military architecture. The old town, located on a Rock surrounded by sea and flanked by excellent beaches, forms a labyrinth of steep, narrow streets squeezed between the walls and the Templar castle at the top, an unforgettable sight for the visitor. Peñíscola becomes a lively tourist destination in summer and reverts to a more tranquil seaside town during the rest of the year.

The Mediterranean Sea permeates all corners of Peñíscola, leading to its description as "a boat stranded at sea…" and influencing its culture as an active fishing port, and home to some excellent cuisine in which rice dishes, fish and seafood are the undisputed protagonists. Peñíscola has also served as the starting point for trips around the historic Maestrazgo region, a land of contrasts between the interior and the coast, between modernity and traditional rural life. The rugged mountains, villages and location suspended in time, and above all its people, will leave the visitor with a store of sensations that will surely inspire a desire to return.

Between the sea and the mountains

The town Alcossebre stands in a choice location on the Mediterranean coast, to the north of the Costa de Castellón. The town boundaries encompass part of the Serra d´Irta Natural Park, perfect surroundings for walking and cycling trips. The coast of Alcossebre, which stretches over more than 10 km, offers numerous high quality beaches and coves, most with fine sand.

Take an unmissable trip up to Santa Lucía Hermitage and admire the fabulous panoramic views as well as the old town of Alcalà de Xivert, with its impressive monumental sites, the Church of San Juan Bautista and its emblematic bell tower along with the picturesque and historically significant Xivert Castle.

A highlight among the famed local produce is the Tomata de Penjar, a traditional variety of tomato grown for over a century in the town, known for its special flavour, long conservation and careful cultivation, which make it highly sought-after in gastronomic circles over recent years and a key ingredient in a number of recipes.

The town has its own landscape - rich, diverse and full of contrasts - where the flat land and the mountains alternate with the beaches and rocky coastal cliffs, an ideal destination for either summer holidays or a peaceful break throughout the year.

OROPESA DEL MAR

Breathe in the tradition

Oropesa del Mar has been home to a diversity of cultures over the centuries. A stroll around the Old Town, with its medieval features and narrow streets, culminating in the ruins of the ancient walls and the Moorish Castle, will transport you back in time. Its sinuous streets offer a range of attractions for the visitor, with museums, theatre visits, street performers, poetry, music festivals, antique markets and exhibitions.

Built to guard against pirate attacks, the Torre del Rey stands at the Oropesa del Mar cape, and is the most emblematic town monument. Nearby is the Lighthouse, an essential guide for maritime traffic. For sports lovers, you will find spectacular competitions and popular challenges with picturesque routes. Walking trips, mountain bikes, quads and cycling are just a few of the sporting activities you can enjoy.

One of the highlights of Oropesa del Mar is its 12 kilometres of coastline with seven choices of beach, each with a unique character and crystal-clear waters. Travelling from north to south, you find long stretches such as Les Amplàries and Morro de Gos, the natural bays and coves of La Concha, Cala del Retor and Orpesa La Vella, the wild unspoilt beach at la Renegà, and others a little more remote like Les Platgetes de Bellver.

CASTELLÓ

Where everything is nearby

At Castelló everything is nearby. In our hometown, the aroma of oranges still permeates the streets. The orchards are never far away. The city, capital of the Plana Alta shire, maintains the calm, friendly character of a working environment.

In the centre, the cultural and commercial life – completely Mediterranean – is typical of a cheerful and animated city. The historic old town centre, that preserves some of the form of a Roman encampment, is where the most important monuments and museums are located. Next to the sea is the Grau district, where fishing and marine activity is concentrated, as well as our magnificent beaches.

Castelló has an innate desire to keep up with the times and welcome its visitors. This is the essence of what our town offers, as well as a wide variety of attractions: the sea, the orchards, monuments, culture, mountains and the fiestas.

Our city is an example for quality of life. The visitor will enjoy the pleasant Mediterranean climate, the rich and varied cuisine based on high quality local produce, excellent beaches and a natural park just a few kilometres from the coast (the Desierto de Las Palmas). All of this without the overcrowding that can obstruct the enjoyment of your holidays.

EXPERIENCES

CULTURAL TOURISM

- ✔ Fishing day on the boat "El Paraíso".
- ✔ Visit the Fish Market of Grao Castelló to discover the traditional auction, learn about the history of the fish market and visit its facilities.
- ✔ Guided visit to the Grao de Castelló, a Mediterranean seaside town with official guides of the area.

GASTRONOMIC TOURISM

Gastronomy and tradition

Castellón's culinary tradition is characterised by the exquisite "arrocito de Castelló", an emblematic dish in which rice becomes art. Accompanied by the unmistakable "Carajillo de Castelló", the fusion of local flavours creates a unique gastronomic experience. Discover the richness of the province through its culinary delights that captivate the palate. The city of Castelló offers its visitors various gastronomic events throughout the year:

- ✔ Seafood Cooking Days.
- ✔ Gastronomic Days of Rice and Orange of Castelló
- ✔ International Contest 'Arrocito de Castelló'

MORELLA

An Extraordinary History

The shire of Els Ports is a singular location, the envy of many. A mountain area, with many of its towns and villages 1000 metres above sea level, but just 45 minutes from the coast. Distanced from large cities, in mountainous surroundings, where peace and tranquillity reign, and one can fully enjoy the towns, people and landscape of a unique region.

Time seems to stand still in the shire of Els Ports. A land with history, which preserves its roots and traditions and offers a unique legacy. Over its extensive territory, which shares a heritage with its neighbours Maestrazgo and Matarraña, we will discover numerous small towns and villages, manor houses, hermitages, sanctuaries and official buildings ... all testimonies to the passage of time.

Castell de Cabres, Castellfort, Cinctorres, Forcall, Herbés, La Mata, Morella, Olocau del Rey, Palanques, la Pobla de Benifassà, Todolella, Vallibona, Vilafranca, Villores, Ares del Maestre, Portell de Morella and Zorita del Maestrazgo are a list of some of the towns that preserve their history and contribute to the enjoyment of this peaceful but vibrant shire.

EXPERIENCES

GASTRONOMIC TOURISM

Vilanosporum experiences

Discover the Black Truffle (Tuber Melanosporum). It begins with a breakfast with Km 0 products in the Escudella, then we visit a truffle plantation in the mountains where we will enjoy what we call "truffle hunting" doing research on this fungus, and we will get to know the vilafranquino landscape represented in the Mas de Berga farm. At the end of the visit, we will return to the restaurant to know the experience of the truffle on the plate in a tasting menu of this mushroom from the first course to desserts.

SPORT TOURISM

Multi-adventure Saltapins

Saltapins is located in the forest area of the Giner Factory Complex. It is a space for leisure and active entertainment, where participants have to jump through its long zip lines, overcome the bridges and aerial tests installed on top of the trees.

You will access the platforms located at the top of the pines through wooden stairs and bridges. Once we get to the platform, the different attractions make us go from one pine tree to another, balancing on the cables, passing the different types of bridges, hanging from lianas or jumping down long zip lines ...

CULTURAL TOURISM

Guided tour of medieval morella

Noverint, a company dedicated to cultural tourism, has more than 30 years' experience in the tourism sector. More than 30,000 people a year visit and discover Morella with us, taking with them a fond memory of this exceptional medieval town.

We suggest you take a stroll through Morella, where you can step back in time to the Middle Ages, walking through its streets and visiting its most emblematic buildings, such as the Town Hall, the Basilica of Santa María la Mayor, the Castle or its museums.

Dinomania

This activity consists of a guided visit to the Dinosaur Museum, where you can see the original fossils found in the area, followed by a visit to the site, which is 2 km from the town and can be reached by car or on foot; a map is available at the Tourist Office.

Discover Vilafranca

Walking through the streets of Vilafranca is like stepping back in time to the industrial age of the Middle Ages. The old quarter preserves the charm of the past: modernist buildings, houses with coats of arms, a Renaissance church built in record time, a museum of dry stone, a town hall with a Gothic altarpiece, etc.

In short, corners that differentiate the old part from the modern part, as if it were a village and a small city.

IC CONVENTION BUREAU

The term MICE tourism (from the English initials: Meeting, Incentives, Conferences and Exhibitions) encompasses all aspects necessary for corporate tourism and business gatherings. It can provide a number of benefits for a destination as it involves a large number of clients and services, with repercussions for such areas as retail, restaurants and catering, alternative leisure activities etc. MICE tourism can take many forms: as well as conferences, conventions and other awareness events, it can also include trade fairs (regional, national, international, professional and/or recreational), as well as incentive trips, product presentations and exhibitions, etc.

Last November Barcelona hosted the latest edition of the IBTM World event, which focused on many of the expected trends for the coming years. We would highlight the following:

• The rural and professional worlds will come closer thanks to new technology and business trends.

Many tourism based establishments in rural areas now have spaces and resources available for hosting various events, ranging from larger gatherings (both professional and family) to work outings and Team Building activities.

• Bleisure and the search for more rural destinations and unconventional locations.

The term Bleisure refers to a mixture of business and leisure - work trips with time set aside for other activities and enjoying and discovering the destination. One can find meeting rooms and spaces for people to gather everywhere, but over the coming years the search will focus on more distinctive and bucolic surroundings, rural tourism and places less busy than city centres, with an emphasis on ecological aspects and interaction with local communities. Destinations that offer more than the capacity of a room and the facilities necessary to stage a meeting. The participants at an event are now looking for authentic experiences, to enjoy activities beyond traditional tourist circuits, to meet local experts and become actively involved with the inhabitants of the place.

• Petit comité and open-air events.

COVID-19 has transformed the sector. The tendency now is to reduce the number of invitees wherever possible. Spaces have adapted in order to cater for smaller events, and those with the same number of participants are divided into separate sessions, or conducted via live streaming applications etc. These solutions can sometimes be beneficial for both the participants and the corresponding locations and destinations.

The Province of Castellón is an attractive destination with the capacity to host all types of events and incentive trips. The region features a rich environmental profile, with three natural parks, a biosphere reserve and other well-known protected locations. It offers a broad range of resources, which combine the modern and the traditional. It stands out with its diversity and the possibility to combine coastal or beach locations with mountains and rural tourism. One of popular trends identified at recent forums is the rural meeting and Castellón is perfectly suited to provide quality services and opportunities in the rural field.

Good transport links, installations and a wide range of accommodation options make the Province of Castellón an ideal destination for MICE Tourism. Conferences and incentive trips, as well as various types of social and professional events, have transformed Castellón into a benchmark on the Mediterranean. Towns such as Castellón, Benicasim, Peñíscola and Oropesa, offer first class installations for conferences and a hotel industry providing accommodation for 25,000 guests at any one time.

As a result, we can conclude that this location is an ideal option for businesses and professional groups. With the added bonus of the chance to enjoy complementary activities, such as active tourism, sports and visits to wineries, companies specializing in the design of team building, motivation and leadership programs have a great opportunity to explore the market and prepare tailor-made solutions with the collaboration of our MICE Tourism experts.

IC WELLNESS TOURISM

Health tourism is one of the tourism products that has developed the most in recent years, motivated by the growing desire of people to take advantage of their leisure time to rest, relax and, ultimately, improve their well-being, both physical and mental.

Thus, the specialized facilities and services in their various modalities such as thalassotherapy based on seawater treatments; mineral-medicinal treatments, which take advantage of the special characteristics that certain types of water may have; or, treatments in conditioned waters such as in spas, are a regular part of all relevant tourist destinations today.

Castellón has an outstanding specialized offer that allows it to offer treatments and services in each of these modalities, which, accompanied by its privileged climate, its proximity to the sea and, of course, its natural and healthy gastronomy, allows it to offer complete programs for well-being and people's health.

In addition, the use of these facilities and services, together with practicing sports - cycling, triathlon, hiking, soccer...- adds more richness and variety of options to enjoy its tourist offer throughout the year.

PALASIET THALASSO CLINIC & HOTEL * Benicàssim

WELLNESS SERVICES: For more than fifty years Palasiet Thalasso Clinic and Hotel has helped its guests to have a healthier life. The Palasiet philosophy maintains that, for this, all you need is personal commitment, help and inspiration with the aim of obtaining greater physical and emotional well-being.

Palasiet is in Benicàssim, surrounded by gardens, flower beds and trees facing the Mediterranean Sea, a very special location, with the magnificent Benicense bay in the background, which invites you to a complete experience of health and well-being. Doctor Joaquín Farnós, pioneer of functional rehabilitation and thalassotherapy, introduced the use of seawater for therapeutic purposes in Spain in 1963. Today, Palasiet is the dean center of thalassotherapy in Spain and one of the most prestigious centers of Europe in this modality of health tourism.

Palasiet is made up of five pillars on which the Palasiet Philosophy is based: thalassotherapy and natural treatments, medical treatments, nutrition, physical activity and emotional balance. All programs are applied in a personalized way adapted to the needs of each guest.

IC TURISMO DE NATURALEZA

The province of Castellón is blessed with eight natural parks, intriguingly distributed throughout the interior, along the Mediterranean coast and even by the sea. Their proximity to the main towns makes them easy and practical destinations. Most of these parks have signposted itineraries, guided tours and information panels to take care of any logistical problems. Thanks to the mild Mediterranean climate that characterises the Region of Valencia, these natural spaces are ideal for family visits throughout the year.

In addition, the province of Castellón offers the opportunity to explore its extensive natural heritage, which can be discovered and enjoyed by all nature lovers. It is important to remember that nature is fragile, so we must take care when visiting landscapes and places of beauty, in order to preserve valuable ecosystems for future generations. In total, the province of Castellón is home to eight Naturale Park, twenty Nature Sites, one Natural Monument, one Protected Landscape Area, numerous micro-reserves and areas of natural interest, making up a universe of unique places and landscapes where you can discover nature at its best.

SIERRA DE IRTA

Guarded by the towns of Peñíscola and Alcocebre by the sea; and by Alcalá de Chivert and Santa Magdalena de Pulpis inland, the Sierra de Irta is a treasure trove of 13 kilometres of unspoilt Mediterranean coastline that still remains intact and protected from the ravages of human destruction.

Quite the opposite of what has happened to most of the rest of the Valencian coastline. A protected natural area that represents one of the last remaining undeveloped coastal mountain ranges on the Mediterranean coast. The perfect enclave for those who love hiking, the Mediterranean, warm sunshine, flora and fauna, and of course the delicious gastronomy that the Bajo Maestrazgo region has to offer, of which it is very difficult to get tired. All this and much more can be found in the Sierra de Irta, Castellón's enclave par excellence, which you should get to know as soon as possible.

PRAT DE CABANES-TORREBLANCA

Discover nature in its purest form in the Prat de Cabanes-Torreblanca Natural Park, one of the least altered wetlands in the Region of Castellón. Visiting the Prat de Cabanes-Torreblanca Nature Reserve means discovering an area of exceptional natural value in the province of Castellón.

It is one of the least disturbed wetlands in the Region of Castellón and is a narrow strip of coastal marshland. This natural park is of great importance because it is home to endemic species such as the gambeta (a type of shrimp), the fartet (Aphanius Iberus) and the samaruc (Valencia toothcarp). It is also a great place for birdwatching and for observing the many migratory birds that pass through the area. A whole spectacle of nature at your fingertips. Here you can immortalise each place, get to know the province's flora and fauna, and see the mammals roam free. In addition, the Prat de Cabanes-Torreblanca Natural Park is located between Torreblanca and Oropesa del Mar, bordered by the Irta and les Santes mountain ranges in Cabanes, natural spaces where you can enjoy emblematic routes for cycling and hiking. It is undoubtedly the ideal place for nature lovers.

DESIERTO DE LAS PALMAS

Pure nature, a great historical heritage and incredible views of the Mediterranean. Discover the Desert de les Palmes Natural Park. This park is an authentic landmark of La Plana, stretching through the municipalities of Benicasim, Borriol, Castelló de la Plana, Oropesa del Mar and La Pobla Tornesa.

This coastal mountain range runs parallel to the coast and is full of ridges and crags. Due to its geographical location, many people come to this park to enjoy nature, hiking and to observe its rich history and heritage. But do you want to know where the name comes from? It all goes back to the time when the Discalced Carmelites inhabited this area.

They called it a 'desert' because it was a solitary place, far from the population, where they retreated for contemplation and prayer. And as this area was full of palm hearts, the park was renamed Desert de les Palmes. Strange, isn't it? The Desert de les Palmes Natural Park is a spectacular place for lovers of hiking, cycling and, in short, nature. There are numerous routes that will take you to places of great charm, such as les Agulles de Santa Águeda. However, if you prefer to go to the top and reach the highest point, you can choose between the Mola del Morico, at 694 metres, and the Bartolo, at 729 metres. From here you can admire the magnificent views of the coastline offered by the two peaks and feel the immensity of the Mediterranean at your feet.

ISLAS COLUMBRETES

The Columbretes Islands are one of the most interesting spots in the western Mediterranean and, undoubtedly, along the coast of Castellón. Located 48 kilometres off the coast of the province of Castellón, this natural park has a great wealth of terrestrial and marine ecosystems.

These islands are made up of a group of islets of volcanic origin. The most important are l'Illa Grossa, la Ferrera, la Foradada and el Carallot. It was not until 1856-1860 that the islands were really settled and the lighthouse was built to guide passing ships at night. Nowadays, the Columbretes Islands are used more for tourism, where visitors go to Illa Grossa, the only island that can be visited due to the fragility of the islets. They come to observe the incredible landscapes, flora and fauna. These islands are a unique habitat in the whole Mediterranean for their great marine diversity. The Columbretes Islands Nature Reserve Visitor Centre is located in the Planetarium of Castelló de la Plana. It features an exhibition about the islands and the world of fishing. A different and dynamic way of getting to know this Mediterranean treasure.

SIERRA CALDERONA

The Serra Calderona was declared a Natural Park in 2002, but long before that it held a special place in the hearts of nature lovers. It is one of the most beautiful landscapes in the Valencian Community, and extends through the regions of Camp de Morvedre, l'Horta and Camp de Túria. If you like mountaineering, this is the place for you, don't hesitate! This mountain range separates the river basins of the Palancia to the north and the Turia and Carraixet to the south.

Its relief has created a landscape with an abundance of pines and cork oaks. The highest peak in the natural park is Gorgo, at 907 metres, accessible from Gátova and Olocau. If you are looking for a good vantage point from which to see the neighbouring regions, the summit of Garbí (601 m) is the place to go. It can be reached from Serra, Náquera or Sega art. Its 18,019 hectares are a hotbed of ravines, slopes and trails with a wide variety of flora and fauna. The long-distance footpath (GR-10) that runs from Puçol to Andilla is ideal for hiking. There are also 4 routes that make up the Senderos de Pequeño Recorrido (Short Trails).

The important thing is to make the most of the wonderful natural surroundings at your disposal.

PENYAGOLOSA

If you love hiking and the great outdoors, this is the place for you. With an area of 1,094.45 hectares, the Penyagolosa Natural Park is located between the towns of Vistabella del Maestrat, Chodos and Villahermosa del Río. It is a high and well-preserved mountain core of the Iberian system. It culminates at 1,813 metres at the summit of Penyagolosa, considered the highest peak in the Valencian Community.

From the summit you will enjoy incredible views over Castellón and the neighbouring lands of Aragón. The area is made up of extensive forests of black pine, common pine, Pyrenean oak and many other species.

The Sanctuary of Sant Joan de Penyagolosa is one of the emblems of this park. It is a place of pilgrimage for the surrounding towns, from Les Useres to the province of Teruel. Most importantly, Penyagolosa is an emblem for lovers of mountaineering; generations of hikers have walked among its hills, ridges and paths to observe a wide variety of fauna. You'll see golden eagles, mountain goats, shrews and butterflies - do you really want to miss it? The Penyagolosa Natural Park is a treasure of our territory that we must all take care of together. We encourage you to visit it and treat it with the respect it deserves. Get to know the biodiversity of our forests and breathe the freshest air.

TINENÇA DE BENIFASSÀ

The Tinença de Benifassà Natural Park is a protected natural area located between the regions of Els Ports and El Baix Maestrat in Castellón. The former possessions of the Benifassà Monastery extended over a mountainous area of high ecological value. Part of it is included in the Tortosa and Beceite Ports National Hunting Reserve.

A network of signposted footpaths links the seven villages of La Tinença: Bel, El Ballestar, Boixar, Castell de Cabres, Coratxà, Fredes and La Pobla de Benifassà, on hiking routes that allow you to discover this exceptionally well-preserved landscape. In the Tinença de Benifassà Natural Park, two elements of cultural heritage stand out: the cave paintings and the Royal Monastery of Santa María de Benifassà. The cave paintings are located on a strip of rock next to the reservoir wall and form part of the rock art of the Mediterranean arc of the Iberian Peninsula, declared a World Heritage Site by Unesco. La Tinença de Benifassà has some of the best preserved forests in the Valencian Community. There is an abundance of Scots pine, red pine and black pine forests, where it is also possible to find lime trees and beech trees. This is a gift from nature that you should put in your diary for your next trip - don't miss it!
